Appendix 2.1: Dwelling Forecasts by PCT and LA, 2001 to 2021

Notes:

PCT totals may differ from those published elsewhere as they have been built from ward level data that are not exactly coterminous with PCT boundaries.

These forecasts have been produced specifically for the purposes of this project and may not be appropriate for other uses.

These forecasts remain subject to revision in the light of new information.

Users should use the figures rounded to 100 where possible, especially when citing them elsewhere.

A2.4: PCT population forecasts by age, 2001 to 2021

Notes:

PCT totals may differ from those published elsewhere as they have been built from ward level data that are not exactly coterminous with PCT boundaries.

These forecasts have been produced specifically for the purposes of this project and may not be appropriate for other uses.

These forecasts remain subject to revision before the final report is published.

Users should round the figures to the nearest 100 wherever possible, particularly when citing them elsewhere.

Totals may not add due to rounding

A2.6: Ward population forecasts grouped by PCT

Notes:

PCT totals may differ from those published elsewhere as they have been built from ward level data that are not exactly coterminous with These forecasts have been produced specifically for the purposes of this project and may not be appropriate for other uses. These forecasts remain subject to revision before the final report is published. Totals may not add due to rounding
